Cold and rainy - - better keep that coat handy by; but remember the temperature is all relative. So far the roses and geraniums survive the frost.

Our Town

By Peggy Blanchard

Mondays , at the C. D. Baxter's home, West Campbell avenue, is the liveliest day in the week as you can tell by a glance at an item elsewhere in this paper- -

Mrs. Baxter is leader for not one, but two Bluebird groups who meet at her house of a Monday afternoon. The Bluebirds are our junior Campfire Girls and the future matrons of Campbell and they are just about as sweet and cuning as the pigtail set can be.

Seems as though their leader and other women who find tme these busy-busy days to aid their fine organization ought to have an extra bouquet now and then—and possibly some help, too. Both the Campfire Girls and the Scouts are looking for leaders. Here's a hobby for you with unlimited opportunity for getting and giving happiness.

From Mrs. W. R. Morgan comes word of the success of a clothing collection by Campbell Country Women's club in behalf of children in the County Detention Home Clubmembers supplemented the meager clothing allowance budgeted from public funds for Santa Clara's dependent children with their gifts. As chairman, Mrs. Morgan was happy about both the size of the collection and the kind and variety of the clothing and so are we to hear of it.

The number of children who become wards of the County because of parental neglect or ther causes is not great in proportion to the population, but nearly 1000 youngsters a year are housed in the Detention Home, about 25 at a time, so there is a real field for kindness there and as usual the Country Women's club has much to give.

Party news this week centered around Mrs. Ruth Hayes Ortman for her friends and former neighbors in Campbell. Mrs. Ortman closed her Los Gatos home Monday and moved to Sacramento and her departure was inspiration for a series of farewell gatherings. Mrs. Besse Palwer Kennedy entertained at a luncheon Saturday in her honor and Mrs. Allen was hostess the Wednesday before.

One Campbell landmark is receiving a set-back this week as house-movers lift the Alpha apartments from their moorings and prepare to shift it toward the rear of the lot. ¾

Four more hacienda-type shops will be added to the group facing on the patio in old Spanish style. It's an ultra modren idea and an attractive one, with a nice balance of tradition. All goes to show you just can't stop progress.

Campbell shops provide a tantalizingpreview of Christmas. In preparation for Christmas hinting, Ive been window shopping and have my eye on the group of ceramics at Burnett's store—the more rosy-posies the better and a pink pottery bow or two will be fine. I like those candy dishes; do-dad boxes and coffee table sets—have already written my letter to Santa describing the pair of brass lamps I'd like—

The ceramics are original designs by a California artist and are beautiful.

Serve On Hospital Committee

John M. O'Keefe and Arthur C. Carmichael have accepted co-chairmanship of the headquarters committee in the O'Connor Hospital campaign, it was announced yesterday.

O'Keefe is a well known San Jose life insurance underwriter, and Carmichael is a prominent vintner and fruit processor.

Chairmen of other committees in the O'Connor campaign are A. R. Bower, public relations; David C. Kirby, central committee; and John P. McEnery, field organizations.

Formation of a citizens' sponsoring committee, made up of 170 prominent Santa Clara Valley residents, also was announced by Patrick H. Peabody, general chairman of the campaign. This is a separate group from the 33-member campaign council.

SCOUT COUNCIL

Scout Leaders from all parts of the Santa Clara County Boy Scout Council will gather at the San Jose Civic Auditorium on Tuesday evening, Dec. 9, to participate in the annual business meeting of the Council. The meeting will be held in Dunne Hall, starting at 8:00 P. M.

Donations For O'Connor Announced By Kirby

Subscriptions to O'Connor Hospital's building fund now total $301,310, David C. Kirby, chairman of central committee in the O'Connor campaign, announced following the second report meeting in San Jose of central committee leaders.

Kirby pointed out this amount represents 30 per cent of central committee's quota of $1,000,000 in the campaign to raise funds toward construction of the new eight-story hospital.

"There are only a few working days until Christmas," Kirby told his committeemen. "Our target is $1,000,000 by January 1." That means we have just five weeks left to raise $700,000. That is $140,000 every week."

Central committee workers are seeking subscriptions from corportions, large business firms, and selected individuals. This represents the first phase of the campaign.

The second phase will get under way in January, when the field committee, headed by John P. McEnery, will carry the campaign to the general public throughout the valley and adjacent areas from which O'Connor's draws patients. The field committee's quota is $500,000.

Plans for the new O'Connor's call for a $3,000,000 building, which will provide complete up-to-date facilities for 300 patients. The public is being asked to raise only half the necessary capital, since the Sisters of Charity, who operate the hospital as a non-profit institution, will match with an equal sum any public subscription up to $1,500,000.

O'Connor Hospital receives patients from a broad area extending north to Palo Alt, east to Livermore, south to Hollister, and west to Santa Cruz.

SIGNS OF THE TIMES

By HARRY BLANCHARD

In which the editor moves to the end of the limb. The following are his own personal observations.
On anotner page is a letter from one of our readers who happens to be an opponent to the incorporation of Campbell. The reader and the editor are hereby awarded equal rights.—H.D.B.

In an act forewarned by the opponents, in the matter of the incorporation of Campbell, the Board of Supervisors last Friday served notice on the people of this district that they do not wish them to incorporate.

The forewarning came about when various people against the plan, came to the office of the Press in advance of the hearing, and explained that they "had things pretty well fixed."

The manner in which the Board served notice on the people was in direct contradiction to the ethics of a democratic way of government. In approaching the Board at the opening of the hearing, Attorney Richard Morton, who represented the proponents, explained that in order to avoid having the Board listen to a lot of speeches by all those who wanted incorporation, he would speak for them, thus not weighing down the proceedings with a great deal of irrelevant words. In return for this act of deference to the Board he asked that the opponents appoint a spokesman for their side. In this manner an orderly presentation of facts might be made. In this, however, he was overruled. The Board decided to listen to all those who wanted the boundaries changed, or who did not want incorporation. In this the Supervisors acted entirely within their rights, since in the legal publication of the hearing it was stated that any and all interested parties might appear and be heard. It was a setback for Morton, who had counted on a reciprocal arrangement of this kind. He had no speakers, or backers, to give him a hand. But he did have a roll of certified property owners, some four hundred of them, who had signed the petition to incorporate the town with the boundaries as outlined. But they were inarticulate. They weren't there to speak for themselves. The opponents were. And they verily did weigh down the Board with their speeches. They had Mr. McKinnon on the ropes. He didn't have a leg to stand on when they got through explaining "the ruinous plan to desecrate the country-side." Actually there may have been fifteen or twenty speakers—some of them read carefully prepared sceeches. For the most part the objections, to our way of thinking, were not too sound. But that doesn't enter into it. They were entitled to their day in court and they had it.

When the time came for the Board to vote, at 11:45 a.m., the Supervisor for this, the fourth district, Mr. Joseph McKinnon, made a motion that if Campbell wanted to incorporate that was all right, but that all those owning property along the boundaries—and here's the joker—all that land lying contiguous to that land along the boundaries might also be "included out." So there you have it. The motion was quickly seconded and passed by the board. It was now almost noon, and most people get hungry along about that time. Mr. Morton was, to put it mildly, nonplussed. Mr. McKinnon beamed upon his constituents. Mr. Brown, Mr. Wool, Mr. Cooley and Mr. Pfeifle sat poker-faced until the crowd filed out. Perhaps they later realized that a dozen people had formed that anomaly, that phenomenon, often encountered in politics where the minority becomes the majority. In this case there was a perfect example of this condition. The majority of people who want incorporation were not in that room. Those who didn't want it were there. Attorney Morton called the turn on this one before the meeting was sixty seconds old. There might easily have been hundreds of people there to express their wishes for their own town government—had those venerable halls been able to contain them. But they thought it sufficient to have signed their names to a petition calling for a referendum on the subject.

As matters now stand the County Engineer must prepare a new map of the district. He must search the records for the names of property owners on the old boundary who wanted "out." His map will probably come up looking something like a cross between the Sawtooth Mountains and the Snake River. The County Assessor isn't very happy about it either. He's got an additional burden now of figuring who's in and who's out. All in all it could present a sorry picture.

But out of it all one fact stands shining. The people now know what they must do to have their will recognized. The next time they want to do something they think is for their good they are not going to leave anything to happen-chance. They know they must raise their voices above their adversaries.

This is the third time Campbell has asked, perhaps all too nicely, for the privilege of governing itself. This time it has not been defeated, it's just been kicked around. When the measure does go to the polls it will indeed be a revelation to the opponents and to the Board of Supervisors. Campbell's day is inevitably coming. It does have a place in the sun—and its progress is not to be stopped by one red light. Lights change.

In a few days the County Engineer will have the new map drawn. It will then be presented to the people of Campbell for their approval. A date for an election will then be set, and the people can then decide at the polls just what they want to do.

The opponents to the plan, who incidentally are represented by one of their spokesman in this paper today, and Mr. McKinnon, call their shots exactly as they see them. So do we.

Citizens Urged To Register: Incorporation Plans Going Ahead

Officials of the Campbell Chamber of Commerce today urged all people who are otherwise eligible to vote, to be sure of their registration. Plans for the incorporation of Campbell, a movement sponsored by the Chamber, are going ahead. A vote on the proposition is expected sometime in January.

Stories appearing in the San Jose papers were misleading in that they indicated the matter might be dropped follwing the action of the County Board of Supervisors in approving a change in the planned boundaries.

The Chamber of Commerce will continue its efforts towards supporting the incorporation measure with increased vigor it was stated by officers of the group. A new map of the town-site is now being drawn by the County Engineer and will probably be ready for presentation to the supervisors next week.

Light Christmas Tree For Season

Holiday lights glowed on the big evergreen before Campbell Union Grammar school Wednesday evening. The school district cooperated with Campbell Chamber of Commerce to provide Christmas trimmings for the tree.

CONSTRUCTION OF MOORPARK, SAN TOMAS SCHOOLS ON SCHEDULE

There are four classrooms (32 x 33 feet) in each wing of the building and the present buildings are laid out so that additional wings can be added to conform to a centralized plan. The free floating roof supported by steel girders makes the building earthquake proof and the walls and partitions do not in any way support the roof. The north side of the classrooms will be glass to provide excellent lighting, while on the south side will be a wall of redwood siding.

Some 8000 feet of ¾ inch copper piping is cemented in a 4½ inch thick floor to provide uniform heating that is regulated by the weather outside. There is 16,000 feet of floor, each wing being 183 feet long by 43 feet wide. There are rest rooms for both boys and girls in each wing.

The school is situated on 15½ acres of land and can be expanded to provide 20 classrooms, cafeteria, auditorium and other features. Franklin, Kump & Falk of San Francisco are the architects and O. E. Anderson is the contactor. Outside of the steel all materials and labor have been supplied locally.

San Tomas school, at the corner of Allendale and Abbott avenue, is of similar construction and is within one step as near completion.

Both buildings are "on schedule" and should be ready for use in February.

Parking Lot In Back IOOF BLDG.

A parking lot, a constructive contribution to the double-parking problem on the main business district of Campbell, is being rapidly completed in back of the IOOF hall.

Members of the IOOF lodge have had the lot leveled and filled and when completed will lease parking space in the day time to down town merchants in order that they may get their cars off the streets and thus provide more parking space for customers. At night the lot will be used by lodge members to park their cars off the streets.

This is the second parking lot on the main street of Campbell, the first being provided by Fields store for customers.

Wildcats Trample Buccaneers In Turkey Day Game

Climaxing what had looked to be a great football season, the Campbell High School football machine went down to defeat at the hands of a tough Los Gatos eleven by a 20 to 12 count in a contest played last Thanksgiving Day. The defeat left the Bucs in second place in the SCVAL and shoved the undefeated untied Wildcats in the top spot. It was the third year that the men from Gatos had taken the crown by beating the Buccaneers.

Although the score wasn't as close as it might have been, the game was in doubt almost all the way. After Bob Merrill had kicked off and the ball had changed hands several times, Ron Flagg, Buc guard, recovered a Los Gatos fumble on the Wildcat 29. From there Hal Orcutt went all the way on an off tackle to make the score read 6-0. Ernie Wilson attempted to run for the extra point, but failed. The Wildcats got to rolling a few plays later when lineman Bastovan intercepted a pass and pawed his way to the Campbell 40. From there on it was all Ernie Jordan of the 'Cats as he passed to Roy Mullins on the 20, and two plays later tied the score with a pass to Danny Short. The Gatos Gang went ahead as Jordan passed to Don Callahan for the extra point. Toward the end of the second quarter two long passes from Jor-

Bonanova In Concert Is The "Real Bonanova"

You who saw Fortunio Bonanova in MGM's "Fiesta," saw him as the young matador receiving the news of the coming blessed event which resulted in the birth of twins. As the picture progressed, Bonanova changed as the twins grew up until, at the end of the movie, we saw him a middle-aged man.

Many people have asked "What is Bonanova really like?" As Fortunio himself explains, "When I play a role, I am that person, am the age of that person. But on the concert stage, ah, then I can be just myself, for I was in concert before I was in opera, and have been on the concert stage all my life. It is there I feel most at home, for I love the audience which is giving to me, as I am giving myself to the audience. Only in concert am I really free, for there I am no character in a play, or opera or picture, but just—Bonanova!"

This dynamic personality is brought to the San Jose Civic Auditorium on Saturday evening, Dec. 6, in person by Mary Bran. And there we will see and hear him as he says himself, "Just—Bonanova!"

State May Look To Small Farms To Boost Output

California's small acreage farmers, operating 68 per cent of the state's farms, can prove a major factor in filling the world's food basket through adoption of new tillage methods which increase yields up to 22 per cent, a study of farm production methods just made public indicates.

In addition to saving up to 34 work days each per year, the state's approximately 25,400 truck farmers, specialty growers and subsistence farmers also can add substantially to the state's $2,121,950,000 1946 farm yield through new tilling and cultivating methods, reports Joseph W. Frazer, president of an industrial corporation, which made the survey.

'America has nearly 2,300,000 farms of 50 acres or less and practically all of these can expect to benefit from methods of improving seed beds," he said. "Soil has been shown to become better aerated and more moisture-retaining with new tillage methods such as that employed by the rototiller, which plows, discs and harrows in a single operation."

An increasing demand for low-acreage subsistence farms was also manifested in the study, Frazer said, a trend which, combined with advances in food freezing and storing, may lead to greater utilization of marginal farm properties.

The current high demand for mechanized equipment for small farms, both domestic and foreign, is indicated, he said, by plans of the Frazer Farm Equipment division to boost rototiller output in its new plant at York, Pa.

'Wih America holding the food basket for virtually the entire world," the manufacturer declared, "the burden of increased food production may well rest squarely on the shoulders of the small farmer and on his ability to cultivate his land more intensively."

Veteran Manages Murray Studio

Arthur Murray, internationally famous dance instructor, took into account the several fast developing towns, including Campbell, in the general area when he recently opened a studio at 938 The Alameda, San Jose.

Before locating a new studio, Murray seeks the answer to one question: "Is it a cultural center?" The matter of size is only secondary. Regarding the San Jose area, the San Jose Chamber of Commerce helped Murray obtain an entirely satisfactory answer to his question.

In fact, it was so satisfactory that Murray sent two of his top men, P. Preston Mock and Carl Benson, to be co-managers of the San Jose studio.

Mock, a twice-decorated veteran of Guadalcanal and Tulagi, has had twenty years experience as a dancing instructor. Benson, for the past four years dance director for the San Francisco studio, did exceptional work with government hospitals during the war, teaching amputees to dance and putting on camp shows with the Red Cross.

Although Murray contends that dancing is fun and believes it is well able to stand on its own merits as one of the oldest of the arts, he also sees it as a health builder through the transforming effects of poise and self-confidence.

Buccaneer Cagers In Opening Game

This Saturday some 35 Campbell high athletes will board a bus which will take them to Santa Cruz for the opening contest of the 1947-48 basketball campaign.

Coach Robert Robinson has announced the following tentative starting line-ups: Varsity—forwards, Magginetti and Nelson; center, Howe; guards, Fagalde and Filice; 130's—forwards, Williamson and De Vilbus; center, Giovanetti; guards, Beth and Geraci.

Beth and Magginetti have been selected as captains for their respectiv egames. Neither team will be at full strength for the contests, but the varsity is hardest hit due o the fact tha tseveral good men were out for football and have had only one week of basketball practice. As Santa Cruz is always a formidable foe the chances of winning are not too bright for the Bucs, but there is always the possibility of an upset.

Scout Clothing Drive Success

Scout Troop 31, sponsored by the Congregational Church, wishes to thank the people of Campbell for their cooperation in this troops' recent clothing drive. The results of the amount of clothing turned in has not been completed, but all indications are that Campbell has done very well. The troop was divided into two groups for this drive and a contest was to see which team collected the most clothing.

Team A was led by its captain SPL Noel Whaley and Asst. Captain PL Bill Plymale. The members of team A were: Marlowe Windbigler, Ron Gilpatrick, Dick Brown Leonard Reed, Hubert Vargus, Tom Gilliam, Mike Devitt, David Brewer.

Team B was Captained by SPL Jack Williams with Kenneth Stuckey as co-captain. Members serving on team B were: Leaonard McCulley, Eugene Vargus, Clift Smith, Leroy Gilliam, Richard Gleed, Jimmy Simms, Tommy Hitchman and Bob Pierce. Troop future plans include a skating party and a joint Christmas party with Troop 49 of Palo Alto.

Three new members were initiat- into Scout Troop 31 at their last meeting in the Scout rooms of the Congregational Church. The new members are Mike Devitt, David Brewer and Leon Madden. The candlelight ceremony was performed by SPL Noel Whaley assisted by PL Marlowe Windbigler and troop scribe, Gerald Gilliam.

4-H CLUB NOTES

Earning a gross volume of nearly $35,000. Santa Clara County's 4-H Club boys and girls have completed the second year the program has been operating in the county. The value of the 4-H Club projects owned and produced by the rural boys and girls enrolled in the voluntary program is reported by George D. Shambrook, assistant farm advisor with the Agricultural Extension Service.

Nearly all of this income is from livestock projects. Only $783, came from projects other than livestock. In addition to the value of agricultural products rural 4-H club girls working in home economics projects preserved 308 quarts of fruit and vegetables, froze 329 pounds of foods, and made 202 articles of wearing apparell.

In addition to being the most popular project with 4-H club members the beef project had the highest gross income, which was $20,004. The cost of this project was the highest according to Shambrook. The 4-H'ers who fed out the 49 beef animals, did so at a cost averaging $192.75 per animal. The costs for the 10 breeding animals raised by club members was $560 per animal.

The project which produced the next highest value was the poultry project. More than 2600 birds were raised by 27 club members. Eggs and meat birds produced by the club member's birds was valued at $4817 and produced at a cost of $3270.

Other livestock project of importance, according to number of units raised by the rural boys and girls are swine, sheep, dairy, rabbits and horses. In the crop projects gardening was the most popular with 10 boys and girls completing projects. One 4-H Club boy, Charles Buck, of the Rucker 4-H Club had as his projest two and one-half acres of prune orchard. One other Rucker 4-H Club member, Richard Osborne, raised two acres of canning tomatoes.

Inaugurate AAU Basketball Season

Making their first Northern California appearance of the 1947-48 season, the Phillips 66 Oilers of Bartlesville, Oklahoma, ranked as the greatest basketball team in America, will clash with th Sacramento Senators at the Civic Auditorium in San Jose Monday night, Dec. 8.

Both the Oilers and Senators are members of the American Basketball league.

In winning the ABL championship as well as the National AAU tournament in 1947, the Oilers turned in the amazing record of 51 triumphs in 53 games. They have won the AAU title for the past four years and have been in the finals for the past decade.

Leading scorer and play-maker for the famed Bartlesville quintet is Bob Kurland, skyscraping, seven foot one-inch center. Most critics maintain that Kurland is the greatest basketball player in America today, because he can set up plays and handle the ball as well as use his height to advantage under the backboards. Before joining the Oilers last year Kurland led the Oklahoma A & M team to the National Intercollegiate title in 1946.

The Oilers boast two other AAU All-Americans in Jesse Renick and Gordon (Shorty) Carpenter, six foot seven-inch guard and center.

WILDCATS BEAT BUCS

dan to Mullins clicked for 50 yards and another touchdown. Jordan's run for conversion failed, and the halftime score was Los Gatos 13; Campbell 6.

The Bucs crawled back into the game in the middle of the third period when a host of Campbellites recovered a Wildcat fumble on the L G 42. Then long pass by Orcutt was taken beautifully by Del Ambler who scampered the remaining five yards to the end zone. It was easily the outstandind play of the game and although Orcutt's place kick was no good and Los Gatos still led the Bucs' roosters were given a good spot for vocal exervise. It was definitely an anticlimax when Los Gatos, after rolling for three straight first downs scored again with the tally occuring on Jordan's 11-yard end-run. There was still a small chance of the Buccaneers tying but Mullin's successful dropkick stopped almost all thoughts of victory. The game ended with Campbell in possesion of the ball in the midfield. Outstanding backfield stars for Campbell were Orcutt, Wilson, Ambler, and Merrill. Wilson was the top ball carrier with an average of almost 5 yards per plunge. Orcutt averaged three and a third yards and completed one out of four passes. Ambler didn't have a good running average but he caught the pass which scored the second touchdown. Merrill played a good dependable quarterback throughout the game. Gazay, while playing with a dislocated arm did the kicking and carried the ball several times. In the line Flagg, Corsiglia John Talia and Jesse Holt stood out, although the whole team gave a creditable performance.

Los Gatos was led by Jordan, who did everything but carry the water; Callahan their best ball carrier, and Short who played very capable during the small period he was in the game. Mullins, Beatty, Bastovan, and Veitch lead the line.

Seniors performing for the last time in a red and blue football jersey were; Corsiglia, Flagg, Orcutt, Talia, Wilson, Wingartner, Dayton, Fields, Gazay, Garrison, Merrill, Rodgers, Jim Taylor, Whitworth, Whitmore, York, Pankoski, and Hillman.

The all-day session will be followed by the annual banquet to be held in the Empire Room of the Hotel Senator at 6:30 p. m. where the speaker of the evening will be the Hon. Jack B. Tenney, State Senator.

Tickets for the banquet, Holthouse stated, may be had from him by phoning Los Altos 2895 or Sunnyvale 3885 or by phoning direct to the Associated Farmers in San Francisco, Garfield 1-5854.

FORUM - -

Campbell Press:

Anyone who doubts that America is still the land of the free and the home of the brave, should have been in the Supervisors' chambers in San Jose Friday morning at the hearing on the proposed boundaries of incorporation for Campbell.

If the "rude bridge that arched the flood" was not visibly present in the room it could be sensibly felt "where the embattled farmers stood." And Campbell is still to be Campbell—the orchard community famed for more than half a century as the loveliest, cleanest living-and-growing place in "My Valley" which is still "how green!" It is not to be sidetracked into a real estate man's bonanza nor an industrial appendix to East Oakland!

Every chair in the room was occupied before the scheduled hour of 10 o'clock. Late comers found places, the women in chairs near the Supervisors' table, the men standing around the wall against the great oil painting of the valley in full springtime blossome, which stretched like a benediction above the proceedings.

Mr. Morton made a mighty effort, and one was almost convinced by his eloquent and passionate description of the elegance of the proposed boundaries, their straightness, their conformity to well established legal lines or to prominent features of the landscape. It looked so pretty on paper until the bubble burst with Col. McBride's simple statement that boundaries get their validity not from geometry nor topography nor political expediency but from the wishes of the people living adjacent thereto.

Then one by one the people went up to the map, pointed out their homes, told of their hopes and fears for them, told of their neighbors' signatures to the petitions for exclusion from the boundaries —85, 90, 100 percent unanimity. Slowly the areas pointed out circled round the little normal town of Campbell 'til they closed the ring. The men and women, some practiced speakers, others who fumbled for words, were earnest, considerate, brief and to the point. They made an impressive composite picture of the American landsman, backed against the wall and fighting for his own. There were, surprisingly, no fireworks, no bitterness nor unkindness. The meeting was terribly tense with the tenseness of people who feel deeply but whose emotions are controlled to careful and gentle speech. The lack of any one of the speakers would have left the meeting the poorer, but for arguments, they were all summed up clearly and forcefully by Mrs. Kasterman in a masterful paper. That paper I wish might be printed and reprinted in the Press from time to time, that we may all grow in understanding of our community and be spared a repetition of this struggle to incorporate the orchards.

ALICE JOY KEITH,
Rt. 2, Box 750, Rincon Ave.

GRASS ROOTS

It was just a grass-roots rumor, after all, that the Italian ship Humanitis was to sail from Windsor, Md., for Naples on Thanksgiving day.

C. D. Cutting, Campbell lad who is all set to work his way to England for Christmas dinner by the cattle-boat method, discovered last week that although the war is over ship sailings are still subject to the guessing contest and sudden schedule change.

The Humanitis will carry an additional 160 head of cattle for delivery to Italy, replacements for young breeding heifers lost during the war.

Current word on the sailing is for departure early next week.

ERROR—

Our informant inadvertantly omitted the name of Mrs. C. H. Lillingston from the list of Thanksgiving guests at the home of Major and Mrs. H. E. Lillingston which appeared in last week's issue.

CHOOSE LINENS WITH CARE

Household linens are an important and expensive item and should be chosen with thought and care. Whether you are buying them to stock your home supply or for gifts, you'll want to select durable linens of good quality.

Here are some suggestions which may help you select wisely from the bewildering variety now available.

BATH TOWELS

Before buying bath towels, consult the members of your family for their preferences as to size and texture. A good towel is absorbent and has a deep, soft, closely woven pile. The underweave should be firm and close. Give it the "pin-hole" test by holding it to the light. A good weave allows only tiny, even specks of light to show through.

Check for strong selvages. Reliable manufacturers place extra yarns there to make them durable. Avoid towels which are hemmed along one side because they will tear or ravel easily. The hems should be amply turned under, sewed with even stitches, and well tacked at each end.

Soft colors are decorative in the bathroom, but your preference may be for plain white towels.

SHEETS

For a sheet that is strong and durable, a heavy muslin is a good choice because it will stand hard wear. If appearance and "feel" are more important, the fineness and softness of percale will make it your choice.

A good sheet has a firm weave and is practically free from sizing. It should be torn rather than cut from the bolt and should be hemmed with strong thread and short, even stitches. The selvage will wear well if it is strong, tapering and closely woven.

When buying a sheet, 108 inches, torn length, is the most satisfactory length. This allows a generous tuck-in at both the foot and head of the bed.

Informative labels are helpful when buying sheets. They give thread count, tensile strength and weight as well as torn size. Thread counts lower than 128 are undesirable. Select sheets with a smooth finish, whether percale or muslin.

BLANKETS

Warmth and durability, without too much weight, are the qualities desired in a blanket. Read the labels carefully and look for blankets with a high percentage of good-quality wool.

Hold the blanket to the light to determine whether it has a close, even weave and a uniform nap. To test for a durable nap, pull it gently. Rub the surface briskly with the palm of your hand. If the nap is good, it will not fuzz up or rub off easily.

Blanket bindings may be cotton sateen or a combination silk and rayon satin weave. Sateen wears well but fades easily. Silk and rayon binding holds the color, soils less easily and matches the blanket fabric more closely. The binding should be well stitched and should have "boxed" corners.

A good blanket size is 80 x 90 inches.

Moreland PTA Hears Of Hot Lunch Program

Miss Margaret Winkelman, state nutritionist for the hot lunch program, was guest speaker for the November meeting of the Moreland PTA held in the clubhouse. Tracing the development of the hot lunch program from its origination in 1855 with the first school feeding in a New York City industrial school to its present nation-wide service status, Miss Winkelman stated that the extensive lunch program planning began during the last depression when there was a surplus of labor and food.

Mrs. George Barbano, chairman of the PTA membership drive, reported that Mrs. Mae Montmorency's class won first prize and Mrs. Elvira Lindgren's class won second prize. Mrs. Wanda Allinger announced that a paper drive would be held Dec. 1, 2 and 3.

Mrs. George Robertson, president, announced the PTA would sponsor a Cub Scout Pack under the leadership of Mrs. Richard Silver and Mrs. Melvin Mills.

Music furnished was a flute solo by Donne Montmorency, accompanied by Rosemarie Magnasco on the piano.

Folk Dancing Class Still Open

Folks who like folk dancing can still enter a class held at 7:30 p. m. each Wednesday in Campbell Union high school gymnasium.

Some 38 members are already registered for the class, one of a number arranged by Campbell Evening School. American square dances, and those of Old Mexico, Russia, Italy and Sweden are among the most popular, says Miss Alice Spencer, instructor.

Grown-ups may register at the class session, to which visitors are invited.

Similar classes in nearby communities have grown into full fledged clubs and the Saratoga and Los Gatos clubs recently were affiliated with the Federation of Folk Dancers.

PROPERTY TAX-EXEMPT

Assessed value of property exempt from taxation in Santa Clara county for 1947-48 totals $18,513,980, an increase of 17.7 percent from the $15,731,085 for 1946-47, California Taxpayers Association reports. These figures include tax exempt valuations of veterans, church, welfare and college properties.

For 1943-44, exemptions in the county had a total valuation of $14,040.320. For 1945-45, $13,811,405 and for 1945-46, $14,242,520.

Veterans News

For the benefits of World War II veterans enrolled in California colleges and universities, Veterans Administration today reviewed recent legislation and VA regulations affecting training under the G. I. Bill and the Vocational Rehabilitation Act for disabled veterans.

END OF WAR—Public Law 239 sets July 25, 1947, as the official end of World War II for the purpose of computing eligibility for veterans' benefits under the G. I. Bill and Public Law 16. As a result, education and training under both laws must be completed by most veterans by July 24, 1956.

INCREASED MINIMUMS FOR DISABLED—Public Law 338 provides for automatic increases in the minimum allowances paid veterans in training under Public Law 16 whose disabilities are rated at 30 per cent or higher. The new minima are $115 a month without dependents and $135 a month with one dependent. Additional allowances are made for more than one dependent. The law requires no action by disabled trainees entitled to the higher rates because the increases, effective September 1, 1947, will be paid automatically with the following check.

LEAVES POLICIES—New leave policies will permit unbroken subsistence payments to veterans going to college under the G. I. Bill and continuing their studies under an accelerated program. Veterans will be credited with 15 days leave to be applied at the end of the last consecutive term of attendance.

They will remain on the subsistence rolls for the entire period of enrollment certified to VA by the institution, providing, there are no more than 15 days between terms. Subsistence will be paid from date of enrollment to 15 days past the close of the last term they attend. All intervals of extended training between semesters and at the close of the school year will be considered as leave and will be charged against entitlement.

EARNING REPORTS—G. I. Bill students studying full time need file only an estimate of earnings on registration. The amount of subsistence allowance will be computed from these estimates. The periodic reports of actual earnings filed by veteran-students in the past no longer will be required unless there is evidence that earnings exceed the estimates.

STREAMLINED PROCEDURES — The new regulations have streamlined registration and subsistence payment procedures by eliminating numerous forms and reports required proviously. Institutions no longer are required to submit to VA affirmative reports of conduct, progress and grades. Future reports will chart only unsatisfactory progress or discontinuances of training. The new procedure on earning reports eliminates the filing of at least two forms each academic year by each student-veteran.

Veterans may secure full information of the new laws and regulations at their nearest VA office.

QUESTION: Do I have to repay subsistence allowance overpayments before I can go back to school under the G. I. Bill?

ANSWER: No. You merely have to make satisfactory arrangements to repay all overpayments before you will be permitted to re-enter school under the G. I. Bill. It is VA's policy not to force any undue hardship on a veteran in the collection of these funds.

Mother, Son Reunited

Mrs. Robert Green, of Casey and White Oaks Roads, was recently re-united with her son, R. C. Fuller, whom she had not seen for 20 years. Mother and son lost track of each other during frequent moves, and the last Mrs. Green had heard of her son he was in Oregon.

The family was united through efforts of the Red Cross which contacted people with whom Mr. Fuller's brother, Gordon, had previously been employed. Both R. E. and Gordon served in World War I and are members of the American Legion.

Mr. Fuller is now in Mare Island hospital with a broken leg, which he received when hit by a car in Sacramento, but is hoping to be able to spend Christmas at home with his mother, brothers and sisters.

Lowest fares are good in chair cars & coaches on our finest, fastest trains!

No other form of low-cost transportation gives you the comfort, convenience, luxury and safety you get in chair cars and coaches on Southern Pacific trains.

You can read, write, play cards, enjoy the scenery, or sleep, as you ride. There's plenty of room to move around and stretch your legs. Most trains are air-conditioned and offer porter service. You'll find meals delicious, prices moderate, in dining and coffee shop cars. (Eating on the train is half the fun of traveling.)

The engineer does the driving. You relax, snug and comfortable no matter what the weather outside. Steel rails are the safest highway ever built.

You'd expect all this to cost a lot—but it doesn't. Hardly more than before the war. And low coach and chair car fares are good on our finest, fastest trains: The City of San Francisco and San Francisco Overland, San Francisco-Chicago; the Golden State and Imperial, Los Angeles-Chicago; the Sunset Limited, Los Angeles-New Orleans; the Beaver, San Francisco-Portland; and the Daylights, between San Francisco-Oakland-Sacramento and Los Angeles.

Remember, too, children under five years of age ride free, five to eleven inclusive for half fare.

Next time, try chair cars and coaches on S. P. trains.
